

Two Kites.

And by the way have you forgotten to say
where you live
whats your name
what ~~you~~ do
No No No ~~the~~

In case you're free
We can go
you and me to the zoo.

and may I ask you what you do with your days, ^{with} your time I ask ^{with your life} Suppose I dare to ask ~~you~~, what are you doing tonight.

In case you're free
I can lend you
these wings for a flight.

Haven't we met
I can't remember, but yet
I could swear
I have seen you before

No No No

But if you're scared of my Goat
I can take you ashore

Or would you rather catch the wind
that blows steady
and pulls to the high open sea

No No No

suppose I give you this rose and you give me a kiss

suppose we take off our clothes and plunge in the sea

and just dismiss with a kiss the petit bourgeois

give me a moment just to finish this brew to undo the voodoo that kept you away for so long for so long you are the force that for so long irresistible might that creates in me
the power of flight.

We are kites in the sky
we can fly
we can fly
we can fly
