

I was born on the bank of a river

And the river takes to the sea

Every day the stream tells a story

Of you, the river and me

I wake up in the middle of nowhere

And I tried to remember my dream

I was sailing along the river

I was drifting alone at sea

Cross the mountains

~~I~~ ~~the~~ tree the heart beats

I call your name in the wind

And the mountain echo repeats

Now it's spring time

When the sun comes in the forest is showing new green leaves

Flowers and love begin

Time for lovers
When the moon shines in A brook, tomorrow a river moonrain falls on my dream

All the cities I passed
By the river

All the love I had on the stream made my bed on the bank of the river
I wake up with you in the sea