

oy platoons, than did the more ambitious "The Detective" have of New York

As he has proved in the past, Mr. Sinatra has a very fine and rare talent, but he needs good people to bring it out, like John Frankenheimer in "The Manchurian Candidate" or Ella Fitzgerald and Antonio Carlos Jobim in last year's television special. In "Lady in Cement," he has no one to bounce off, but